FREW & CAMPBELL

THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1878.

Getting Down to Business.

Negotiations are assuming a tangible shape between the Castle Shannon Railroad Company and the people of Washington, Pa. A definite proposition has been made by the railroad company to complete their road (36 inch gauge) to Washington, and thence 5 miles in the direction of Middletown, provided $30, 000 is subscribed. This amount can be 000 is subscribed. This amount can be subscribed in large or small sums by individuals, and paid either in money material or labor. Certificates will b given for the money paid, redeemable (if desired) in transportation of freight or Cent. O. Di passengers. The leading citizens of Washington reem to be taking hold of the proposition in a way that means busi-

A Specimen Pennsylvania Dem-

The average Pennsylvania Democrat differs from the average Democrat of the country. When in 1844, the Damocrate generally of the country were hurrahing for a repeal of the tariff of 1842, the Penn sylvania Democratic torch light processions were wont to inscribe on their ban ners, "Polk, Dallas, Texas and the tariff of 1842" And as it was in 1844, so it i now in 1878, as is illustrated by the discussion of the subject between the Washington, (Penn.) Beporter and its neighbor, the Examiner. The Examiner being Democratic, has been interrogated by the Reporter as to its position on the wool and iron features of the proposed new tariff. The editor rebukes his cotemporary for putting such impertinen questions to him, and disposes of the subject with the remark that he is "opposed to everything in the Wood bill that is prejudicial to the interests of Pennsylva-

The Cleveland & Pittsburgh Rail-

The receipts of this road for several years past have been as follows: In 1873 the gross receipts were $3,740,384 15, leaving net to the Pennsylvania Railroad (the lessee) after all expenditures, $534, 078 02. In 1874 they were $3,055,478 58, leaving net $173,385 38. In 1875 they were $2,629,037 15, leaving net $11,756 09 In 1876, they were $2,484,018 78, and left a net loss to the Pennsylvania Railroad of $212,416 82. In 1877 they were $2,-392,325 78, and left a net loss of $207,-It will thus be seen that the net earn ings to the lessee have run down from $534 078 02 in 1873, to a loss of $207,111.-14 in 1877, making a total difference of $741,189 16 to the lessee.

As to the future of the road, that is a matter of conjecture. The effects of the opening of the P. W. & Ky. road, and of two still more formidable competitors, the Tuscarawas Valley and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie road, is also a matter njecture. The two latter will be figished sometime this year. They will both compete for the ore and coal business of Cleveland and the lake ports-a business that has been the main source of prosper ity to the C. & P.

The Price of Gas.

Wheeling does, its gas works, and supplies gas at $2 50 per thousand, which is 872 cents per thousand more than is charged here. The Committee on Light of the city Council publish a report once a year of their operations, going into de tails as respects the cost of production. For instance, in the report made public in the Richmond Dispatch of Tuesday, the cost of producing gas for several years past is given. In 1873 the cost was $3 36 per thousand, in 1874 it was reduced to $2 70, in '75 to $2 50, in '76 to $2 23, and in 1877 to $2 22-a handsome ratio of reduction. One large item of cost is the interest on a million of dollars still owing by the city on the purchase o the works. The expenses and labor only amounted to $78,496, and coal to $37,000, in producing 78,911,729 feet of gas last year, whereas the interest amounted to $60,000. In other words, the expense for interest was one third of the whole cost in producing a thousand feet of gas. Subtract this one-third from $2 22 (the whole cost) and there is left $1.48 as the actual expense of producing a thousand. year, whereas the interest amounted to actual expense of producing a thousand feet of gas. The committee set forth in their report that the great flood of 1877 at Richmond demonstrated the superiority of clay over iron retorts. Not a retor was broken, whereas had iron retorts been in use they would probably all have been broken.

Perpetual Motion Accomptished. A magnetic clock, invented by Daniel Drawbaugh, of Militown, Cumberland county, Pa., is sufficiently remarkable to the earth, an inxhaustible source of power, THE CHILDRENS' CARRIAGES, the earth, an inxhaustible source of power, is made to oscillate the pendulum; and the simplicity of all the works give an assurance of the least possible friction. At a certain point the movements of the pendulum lisell shut off magnetic connection with the earth, and at another point restores the connection, thus securing the conditions necessary to produce its oscillations. The works are so ingenius and simple that it is no wild assertion to make that, were it not for the unavoidable wearing out caused by even the smallest amount of friction, the clock would run as long as the solid earth endures. This clock is hung against a board partition, with all the works exposed, subject to the jarrings of machinery and obstructions from dust settling upon it, yet since March 1st, 1877, it has been run ning continuously and uniformly, with only slight reported variations, as tested by transit observations at noon.—Harris-hear Mearch 1st. by transit observations at noon,—Harris-burg Telegraph,

A languid circulation, a torpid state of the liver, a want of vital stamins, are conditions peculiarly favorable to malarial dis-asses. They are, however, surely remedied by the great Freventivs, which, by invigorating
